As mayor of the city of Apache Junction, I am committed to the success of students in our community. Recent years have highlighted, more than ever, the importance of schools to a well-functioning community, and how much families rely on them for not just academics, but meals, social supports, and much more.

A well-educated community is the key to a vibrant economy and AJUSD is a critical partner in this effort. With a longstanding passion for excellence in education, AJUSD is mindful of the most effective use of taxpayer dollars, and committed to transparency and accountability when it comes to those expenditures.

You may ask how this benefits you if you do not have students in our schools. The reason is simple: our students are our future workforce. They are the next generation of mechanics, doctors, artists, farmers, soldiers, and teachers. Investing in our schools is an investment in their future, and in turn an investment in our community and economic development.

Every voter should appreciate that this bond is structured so that taxes will not increase based on current home values. But the value it will bring to our students, teachers, and community is immeasurable. Please vote YES.
