A strong public education system is of vital interest to me, as the owner of Padgett Business Services and as a former Apache Junction City Council member. Thanks to both, I have been involved in the Apache Junction community and I understand what is required to ensure a robust economy with a qualified employment pool.

Like most property owners, school districts must continually repair and renovate facilities. Air conditioners malfunction, roofs and flooring require replacement, and security and fire systems must be updated. Technology equipment must be maintained, repaired, and/or replaced routinely. In order to be competitive in the workforce, students must have access to modern equipment and instructional materials which enhance learning.

The legislature has not fully funded the capital formula for over ten years, and thus, it's up to us to decide what type of education we want for our students. The Apache Junction students deserve to receive a first-rate education to become successful adults and an investment in AJUSD Schools is needed from the community and business owners.

Please join me in voting YES for the AJUSD bond. Its passage will protect the valuable community asset that is our schools.
